

FTCh Gusty Garry
“Kane”
Qualifier – 2005 British Retriever Championship
Imported, 2005
Weight: 68 lbs.

“Kane,” officially known as FTCh Gusty Garry, hailed from Northern Scotland near Aberdeen. Kane earned his British Field Trial Champion title and qualified for the '05 British Retriever Championship by winning the Scottish Gundog Association's two-day Open Qualifier. He was one of only 48 dogs in the UK to qualify for the championship in 2005.

Kane's English competition successes were recognized early on when he was selected to represent Scotland as a member of the '03 and '04 Scottish Gundog team, which competed in international competitions. In 2003, Kane received a most prestigious recognition when he, at just over 3 years of age, was selected as “Top Dog” at the '03 CLA Game Fairs International Retriever Competition, the largest game fair in the world. Kane led the Scottish team to victory that year.

Kane possesses an impressive pedigree with 12 titled ancestors of 14 in a three-generation pedigree, including FTCh Pocklea Remus on both the top and bottom of his bloodlines. Remus is considered to be the most successful Labrador sire in British history. Kane has sired pups in Scotland making him a true international producer of superior English retrievers.

I personally witnessed Kane's grandmother, FTCh Glenpatrick Halo, earn her title when she won the two-day open stake at Sandringham, the Queen's estate, in 2000. She took on the best retrievers in the business that day under three well-known judges including Bill Meldrum, the Queen's retriever trainer and head keeper at Sandringham. The winning drive may be seen on our website on the international page. Halo qualified twice for the British championship during her career and her mother, Gusto, qualified once....an amazing line of females.

Halo went on to produce several brilliant offsprings, the most notable, FTCh Glenpatrick Eve and FTCh Glenpatrick Eclipse of Craigenros. Eve qualified for the British Championship four consecutive years and placed third in 2001. Eclipse qualified twice. Another of her pups, FTW Glenpatrick Daniel, qualified in 1999. Kane's mother, Glenpatrick Blue Bell, was a fabulous shooting dog but never trialed.

While “picking up with him” at Arley Hall, a historic English estate shoot, before his departure to the U.S., I received many compliments about Kane’s confirmation and his style and proficiency in the field from both the guns and the estate owner, Lord Ashbrook. Kane is fast, possesses a brilliant, gamefinding nose. He is bold to the water, and fearless in thick cover. Yet, he has an amazingly quiet, biddable disposition, which is immediately apparent in the field, the blind, or around the home, the perfect balance between drive and civil nature.

Beautiful in confirmation with thousands of birds retrieved to his credit, Kane is proven in UK competitions, upland hunting and waterfowl from the most prestigious, British/Scottish estates to the muddy waters of America’s Deep South. Kane is a perfect example of a Wildrose International Gentleman’s Gundog.
